

DR. SEEMA RAO WONDER WOMAN OF INDIA

As India's first & Only woman commando trainer, Dr. Seema is featured as 1 of 14 most influential women with Theresa May & Melinda Gates by BBC host Ruth Davidson. Ranked no 6 Power Woman by Forbes magazine. Internationally she got World Peace Award. In India she got the highest civilian honour for women in the republic of India Narishakti National award from President of India.

Seema spent 25 years of her prime life training 20,000 commandos for free of monetary compensation receiving 3 Army Chief Citations, an exemplary feat for a single individual. She was made an approved resource of Govt of India & she trained 12 state Police Anti Terror squads.

Seema authored WORLDS FIRST ENCYCLOPEDIA OF CLOSE COMBAT OP & 7 other books specially for Indian forces & gifted to Home Ministry & Indian Army. Her books were accepted in FBI, INTERPOL & Buckingham Palace libraries. Shri Narendra Modiji applauded her service to the country. Despite bankruptcy, Seema refused sponsorship, donation or grants. Seema spent the prime years of her youth in freezing high altitude, scorching hot deserts, dense jungles & hostile LOCs & fractured every bone in her body. Seema decided to not have a child but instead adopted one. In addition to brawn, Seema has excelled in Beauty & Brains too, studying Immunology from Harvard Medical School & Leadership from Westminster Business School. A six times TEDX speaker and a Mrs India World Beauty pageant runner up, Dr Seema Rao is living proof that A Woman can play a man's game and excel at it. She is India's Wonder Woman!